

Golfweek's
DEFINITIVE GUIDE TO

The Golf Life
2008

Bande
Bande

Golfweek's
BEST Residential and Resort
Courses

GLACIER CLUB

Durango, Colorado

Amid the incomparable grandeur of the southern Rocky Mountains, Glacier Club exists harmoniously with one of the most magnificent geographic expanses in America. Here, an awe-inspiring landscape carved by eons of glacial movement surrounds the luxurious man-made beauty of Glacier Club.

Lofted high atop an elevation of 8,000 feet and surrounded by glacially striated cliffs and peaks that soar up to 14,000 feet, Glacier Club offers three of the most scenic and satisfying nine-hole golf courses in the Rockies. Seemingly at one with their environment, the three courses – Cliffs Nine, Hermosa Nine and Glacier Nine – offer hundreds of feet of elevation changes, delivering both pleasure and challenge to golfers of every level. The spectacular layout also traverses natural streams, lakes and meadows and may include occasional elk, bald eagles and other indigenous creatures as a gallery. Glacier Club's teaching and practice facility includes a warm-up area, three putting greens and even an indoor facility for off-season training. A complete golf shop offers the latest in golf gear and sportswear, as well as personal equipment fittings and lessons.

Following an exhilarating day on the course, Glacier Club's inviting clubhouse entices both members and guests with the warmth of its massive stone fireplaces, stately game room and resonant grand piano, while the stunning views from its cliffside location make indoor and outdoor dining as much a feast for the eyes as the palate. Offering three levels of club membership, Glacier Club allows members to choose a program that is designed to suit each individual's needs.

Unlike many other private communities where members continue to wait for swimming pools, tennis courts and other features to be completed long after their homes have been finished, Glacier Club's amenities are all ready for members' use and enjoyment. Along with indoor/outdoor dining, tennis courts, a fully equipped exercise facility, outdoor hot tub and pool, dry sauna, massage services and nature trails, Glacier Club members can also enjoy nearby skiing, trout fishing, river rafting, kayaking, horseback riding and four-wheel drive expeditions.

Glacier Club's custom home neighborhoods – Cliffside, Glacier Cliff, Glacier Pointe and Hideout – offer handsome residences that complement Durango's striking scenery. The community also features Club Cottage townhomes located adjacent to the clubhouse; Showdown townhomes and Glacier Pond cabin-style homes bordering the Glacier Nine course; Royal Elk and Hideout cabins situated in a secluded forest dell; and the new Retreat townhomes and Timber Village cabins. Prices start from the $600,000s to more than $4 million, with custom homesites from the $250,000s to more than $1 million. ♦

Real Estate 866.379.5722 | Membership 866.375.8300 | www.TheGlacierClub.com
40290 Highway 550 North | Durango, CO 81301

HONORS

*Golfweek's Best
Residential Golf Courses
(Course of Distinction)
-Golfweek*